

Presentation Formats

Presentation formats provide an opportunity to address caring-based research, practice, simulation and/or education topics. Topics reflecting the conference theme are preferred. Research studies submitted for presentation must be complete at the time of abstract submission with evidence of IRB approval/exemption. Posters may reflect research in progress. IRB approval is not expressly required for program evaluation or quality improvement studies. Authors may submit multiple abstracts.

Podium Presentations consist of a single paper. Presentation time is 30 minutes.

Symposium Presentations consist of three (3) related papers. The abstract should include a single symposium title and address the shared topic. Titles of individual papers and authors will also be submitted. The symposium will be reviewed as a whole. Presentation time is 1 ½ hours.

Workshop Presentations must provide an interactive learning environment. Presentations shall include active learner participation/engagement from attendees. Presentation time is 1 ½ hours.

Simulation Presentations must provide a simulated, interactive learning environment and will be held in the Clemson University Nursing Simulation Center. Presentation time is 1 hour. At least 50% of the instructional timeline must show interactivity between faculty and learner.

Poster Presentations reflect a single topic. Attendance of at least one author is required. Research in progress may be submitted with evidence of IRB approval.

PLEASE NOTE: IRB approval is required for all human subject research abstracts and IRB approval and institution name must be included in the abstract text to avoid automatic disqualification.

Abstract Title: Please limit to 15 words.

Abstract: Abstracts are limited to 300 words.

Note: If abstract is a completed, or still in progress research project, please indicate in the abstract that IRB approval has been given, and by which institution.
